

EBTA Summer Camp 2018

What EBTA International Task-group (ICT) organizes a Summer Camp, where some senior SFBT practitioners share their professional know-how with younger practitioners, who want to promote solution-focused thinking and practices in their work and life surrounding.

Why Some younger practitioners expressed during the Vienna conference 2015 their hope that EBTA would promote ways for the older SF generation to be mentors for them. A Summer Camp offers a good way to do this in a relaxed atmosphere and place with enough time to reflect and share.

When June 30 to July 5, 2018

Where Rotondella (province Matera), Italy.

The exposed location of Rotondella (population 2800) on a hilltop of 576 m high gave the village the nickname „balcone dello Jonio“. From the main piazza there is a terrific view over the landscape. Rotondella offers wonderful beaches at the Ionian Sea (Rotondella Mare) and is the entrance of the national parc „Pollino“ (Porta del Pollino).

There are also a lot of other possibilities in the region: hiking, biking, excursions to Matera (European Capital of Culture 2019), greek archaeology and scenic highlights. And of course the italian hospitality with wonderful food and nice people. At www.rotondella-greeters.com you find more information.

The house „A'Ferachiusa“ (www.ferachiusa.it) is situated in the village and has single and multiple bed rooms and a community kitchen.

Who The mentors are Ursula Buehlmann, Jacek Lelonkiewicz, Riitta Malkamäki and Ferdinand Wolf. Max Puerstl is host of the group.

For Up to 15 SF practitioners who promote solution-focused thinking and practices in their area and want to exchange experiences and are willing to contribute something to EBTA in the future.

Doing Informal discussions of topics of interest, sharing SF know-how, working on materials, imagining the future in between cooking, swimming and playing games.

Costs Personal travel costs to Rotondella. 35.00 € per person per night in the accommodation "A'Ferachiusa" (if for someone this costs are too high, Max will organize another accommodation). And a share of the food and drinks.

Travel The nearest airport is Bari. There you could share a rental car or you take the bus or train to Policoro. From Policoro we could organize a collection service. Policoro is also easily accessible by train (www.trenitalia.it) or by Italian long distance bus (fsbusitaliafast.it).

As preparation of the journey to South Italy there is the book „Christ only came to Eboli“ by Carlo Levi.
